

turbers of a neighborhood, that may be found in said city, and the overseer of said workhouse shall receive and keep such persons according to the tenor of the commitment.

143. No ordinance of said city, except as herein specially provided, shall impose a fine of more than twenty dollars for any one offence, or authorize a commitment to the workhouse for more than thirty days at one time.

144. All fines imposed by virtue of any law or ordinance of the said city, may be recovered before the mayor or a justice of the peace, in the same manner as small debts, and subject to the same appeal; and in all such proceedings any constable of the corporation shall, within the limits of the corporation, have the same power, proceed in the same manner, and have the same fees as other constables in cases of small debts.

145. All fines shall go to the corporation, and shall be appropriated as directed by ordinance.

146. No ordinance of the corporation shall be binding on any person who does not reside in the said city, until the same shall have been published in some newspaper in said city, unless in case of wilful and intentional violation of such ordinance, after notice thereof; and the said corporation shall pass no ordinance contrary to law.

147. The inhabitants of said city, and all persons holding property therein, shall be competent witnesses in all cases arising under this charter, or the ordinances of said city, if exempt from all other exceptions than that of interest as an inhabitant of the said city, or member of the said corporation.

INSPECTIONS.

FLOUR.

148. The Governor shall, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, biennially appoint an inspector of flour for the city of Frederick.
