

209. Any person offending against either of the two preceding sections, shall be fined by any justice of the peace of the county, the sum of fifty dollars, one-half to the informer, and the other half to the county commissioners for the use of the county.

210. In the trial of every such case, either party shall have the right to appeal to the Circuit Court under the limitations and subject to the regulations provided for taking appeals from judgments of justices of the peace for debt.

211. Any person or persons who shall use any sink-boats, sneak-boats or floats in any of the rivers, creeks or waters of Anne Arundel county, while engaged in shooting at or killing wild ducks or other wild fowl, shall be subject to a fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars for each offence; and the sink-boats, sneak-boats, crafts or floats, the gun or guns, ammunition, and all other property found in the possession or use of such person or persons at the time of the arrest and seizure, together with the boat, craft or float, and all things on board or belonging to the same, employed to convey said person or persons to any of the aforesaid waters, shall be forfeited, condemned and sold as hereinafter provided.

212. Any sheriff, constable or commissioned militia officer of Anne Arundel county, who shall be satisfied, either from his own view or from information received from any other person, on oath, that any person or persons have violated any of the provisions of the last preceding section, shall arrest and take into his custody the person or persons so offending, and the boatmen found on board or belonging to the boat or float employed to convey any or all of such offenders to said county for the purpose of shooting at or killing wild ducks or wild fowl of any description; and he shall seize and take into his possession the said boat or craft, and all the appurtenances to the same belonging, and all the articles declared forfeited as aforesaid.

213. And the said officer shall take the person or persons so arrested before some justice of the peace of the county, and present before such justice the breach of law committed.

214. And the justice of the peace shall take cognizance of the offence, and shall docket a case, in the name of the State, against each person in the custody of the officers.
