

P. L. L., (1860,) art. 4, sec. 600.

567. Nothing contained in the last three preceding sections shall apply to prisoners in the said jail who are under sentence of death.

CONVICTS.

1880, ch. 4.

568. All persons confined in the jail of Baltimore city for offences punished by confinement in said jail shall, after conviction, be kept occupied at hard labor in some useful employment; and the visitors of the said jail shall frame such regulations as may be necessary to the industry, quiet and discipline of the persons confined therein, who may have been convicted of offences punishable as aforesaid; and all persons who shall hereafter be convicted of any offence punishable as aforesaid, and confined in said jail under a sentence for a longer period than two calendar months, shall each have a deduction from their several terms of sentence of five days for each and every calendar month during which no charge of misconduct shall have been sustained against them, and they shall be discharged at the expiration of their respective terms of sentence, less the time so deducted, and a certificate of the warden of the said jail of such deduction shall be entered on the warrant of commitment; provided, that if, during the term of imprisonment, the prisoner shall commit any act of insubordination or other violation of discipline, the board of visitors may, at their discretion, reduce or annul entirely such deductions.

P. L. L., (1860,) art. 4, sec. 159.

569. All persons confined in said jail under the provisions of the preceding section shall be kept separate from such persons as are in confinement awaiting trial, or for other offences.

VAGRANTS.

1862, ch. 8.

570. The warden of the jail of the city of Baltimore shall prepare and send to the judge of the criminal court of Baltimore, on each and every Saturday, a full and complete list of the names of all persons who are committed to his custody by the justices of the peace of said city, either as vagrants or in default of security
