

1 be an unorthodox proposal, but in this very complex
2 field, I think a great deal of time will be lost if we
3 try to propose from the floor, the Chair and the staff
4 and the Committee have undoubtedly given great considera-
5 tion to this problem. I think they see it in broader 6 perspective than any of the rest of us.

7 I would suggest that the Chair put as pre-
8 liminary policy questions the three or four major
9 issues here with the idea that we would then discuss 10 and debate, debate and vote on each of those issues but 11 without leaving it to the floor to put those motions.
12 It seems to me if the Chair puts the motions having 13 pretty clear concept of what is involved, we might make 14 progress a good deal faster than waiting for motions from 15 the floor.

16 I propose that as a procedure.

17 MR. SCANLAN: I second the motion.

18 MR. CIAGETT: That is a dangerous procedure
19 because you begin to get yourself committed toward an 20 eventual decision on the basis of a preliminary choice
21 and you may place yourself in an embarrassing position
